PRESIDENTIAL NOTES

SONDRA PFEIFFER

Once again, the most important news item is the fall issue of Synapse is the annual meeting of ALHeLA. And once again our President Elect has done an outstanding job of arranging an informative and entertaining meeting.

This year is the fourteenth annual meeting of ALHeLA and the president elect is Judy Burnham. The annual meetings just keep getting bigger and better. This year's theme is Leadership Challenges during an Age of Change and begins on September 8, at the Ramada Convention Center in Mobile, with a Continuing Education course taught by Dr. Carl Joiner of Mercer University. A banquet at Bellingrath Gardens will follow the CE course.

The Friday morning program will feature a panel discussion on "What Leadership Means to Me". Lunch and the annual business meeting, which will include committee reports, will follow.

In addition, Joy Harriman, Nominating Committee Chair, will present next year's slate of officers for election. The final offering for this year's annual meeting will be a continuing education course on the Internet, titled That Internet Thing, taught by Jack Smith and Joe Moudry.

I know Judy spent many long hours arranging this meeting for the ALHeLA members. I'm looking forward to seeing you all in Mobile.
