Looking for an opportunity to receive free feedback on your health concerns? How about receiving a free lunch and back massage?

The University of South Alabama Health System is hosting a Healthy U-S-A Fair on August 24th from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the USA Faculty Club. All USA employees are invited.

The first 200 attendees will receive a lunch, and everyone will have the chance to receive a back massage and register for prize drawings.

The health fair will provide health screenings - measuring blood pressure, glucose, cholesterol, and bone density - and USA Physician Group providers will be on hand to answer questions regarding your health. You'll also be able to determine your body mass index and receive cancer screenings and physical therapy screenings.

For more information, e-mail Kim Partridge at kepartridge@usouthal.edu.

Med School Café - Expert Advice for the Community

This week, Dr. Daniel Dees, assistant professor of neurology at the USA College of Medicine, presented the August Med School Café lecture.

The lecture, "Parkinson's Disease, Tremors, and Other Common Movement Disorders in the Adult Population," had a total of 95 attendees.

During the talk, Dr. Dees discussed Parkinson's Disease, a disorder of the brain that leads to shaking and difficulty with walking, movement, and coordination.

The next Med School Café lecture will feature Dr. Albert Pearsall, professor of orthopaedics at USA. The event will take place Sept. 19, 2012.
